BIBI Thought for the Week:

"This movement is known in the field as inclusion and while it may work for some children with disabilities, it will further isolate a deaf child from his language mode peers, and further restrict his access to instruction."

Dr. Freeman King, Utah State University, at the annual conference of the Association of College Educators - Deaf and Hard of Hearing - 1993

National Missing Children Day

ISD will join a nationwide effort to locate missing or abducted children. The PTCO has agreed to pay membership dues to enable ISD to join Abducted Children, a national organization which publishes the Missing Children Report.

The publication currently has a circulation of 150,000. The organization's goal is to more than double that by May 25th, National Missing Children Day.

To accomplish that, Abducted Children has asked school administrators to contact 5 - 10 additional persons who want to begin receiving copies of the report. ISD Superintendent Eddy Laird has accepted responsibility for making those contacts. "I am pleased that, through PTCO's efforts, ISD can be a part of this service to help communities find missing or abducted children," the Superintendent explained.

Thanks

ISD's 0 - 3 Center staff wishes to thank the PTCO for underwriting the purchase of a high chair and playpen for the program, and send special thanks to Preschool Dorm Supervisor Marty Jernigan of Raney Hall for donating an entire box of toys.

From the Past

ISD History by Winona Alter

On April 25th, 1935, an Indianapolis fireman climbed a 40 foot ladder to rescue a robin that had become entangled in a string fastened to the limb of a tree near the school building. His efforts won the heartfelt thanks of the school's younger pupils (who watched the rescue).

The same year (1935) a new sign was erected at the entrance to the campus. The sign read - "The Indiana State School for the Deaf. Established in 1844."

In 1937, The Lindy Club (presumably named after aviation pioneer Charles Lindbergh) was organized for boys interested in model airplanes.

Words With Dignity

People with a disability should be described in words and expressions that portray them with dignity. The following guidelines and terms are supported by some 200 organizations that represent or are associated with Canadians with a disability.

In general, remember -

- describe the person, not the disability
- refer to a person's disability only when it is relevant
- avoid images designed to evoke pity or guilt

Instead of...

Use...

Disabled, handicapped, crippled

Person(s) with a disability

Crippled by, afflicted with, suffering from, victim of, deformed

Person who has..., or Person with...

Lame

Person who is mobility impaired

Confined, bound restricted to or dependent on a wheelchair

Person who uses a wheelchair

Deaf and dumb, deaf mute, hearing impaired

Person who is deaf, hard of hearing

Retarded, mentally retarded

Person with a developmental disability

Spastic (as a noun)

Person with Cerebral Palsy

Physically challenged

Person with a physical disability

Mental patient, mentally ill, mentally insane

Person with a mental illness, person who has schizophrenia, person who has...

Learning disabled, learning difficulty

Person with a learning disability

Visually impaired (as a collective noun)

Persons who are visually impaired, blind

If in doubt, ask. Most people with a disability will be more than willing to help you.
